

Massachusetts Camp Curtis Guild

Facility and Location

Camp Curtis Guild is a 683 acre Massachusetts Army National Guard training site located approximately 15 miles northeast of Boston. The land use of Camp Curtis Guild consists of military training activities, including assembly, tactical maneuvering, tactical bivouacking, engineering, support, and maintenance, as well as environmental management. Consistent with the use of military installations to ensure the preparedness of the Armed Forces, the land and resources Camp Curtis Guild is properly managed to minimize negative impacts from use, to preserve sensitive habitats and rare species, and to promote the sustainment of native ecosystems.

Media Sampled and Findings

Drinking Water — In 2011, two of two samples detected perchlorate at 0.02 and 0.07 ppb.

Appropriate Actions

Not Applicable. All samples were below the EPA and DoD Preliminary Remediation Goal of 15 ppb.